Introduction

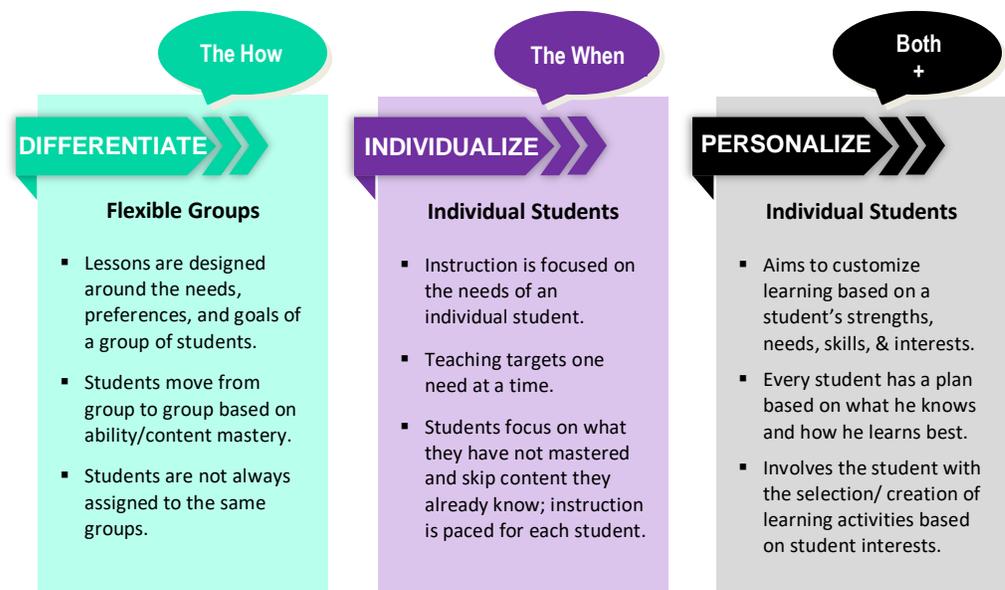

How can a teacher use data to differentiate, individualize, and personalize instruction that engages students and leads to improved learning outcomes and increased student performance? There is no simple answer to this question; but in this Resource Handbook, we will unveil the new TABE 11/12 Individualized Instructional Student Plan (IISP), a document that serves to identify student learning gaps based on pre-test data as well as prepare students to master content that is targeted in post-testing.

Before diving into these new IISPs, it is strongly recommended that you view the recorded webinar titled the same as this Resource Handbook: Individualized Instructional Student Plans for the TABE 11/12 Language Tests. The webinar, like this Resource Handbook, is broken down into three parts: (1) Differentiate, Individualize, and Personalize Instruction which addresses how we can move from a more teacher-centered type of instruction to a more learner-centered one that empowers the learner by engaging him in self-reflection and self-assessment; (2) The New TABE 11/12 Individualized Instructional Student Plan (IISP) which gives the reader a basic understanding of how the plan was created along with a brief explanation of its components and how best to use the plan in order to move your student data in a positive direction; and (3) Conclusion and Reflection which ends with a call to action in making the shift to move the focus of your classroom from teaching to learning by emphasizing how your students can become responsible owners of their learning and instructional progress as they advance from one functional level to the next.

As we journey through this Resource Handbook, I want to emphasize and urge you keep foremost in your mind that one of the key goals for using an IISP is for the student to become a self-directed, expert learner who monitors progress and reflects on learning based on mastery of content and skills. We want to move from a teacher-centric instructional environment where there is little student choice and voice to a more student-centric one where there is more student choice and voice. You will immediately see how this is encouraged as a standard application of the IISP for the TABE 11/12 Language Test.

Part 1: Differentiate, Individualize, and Personalize Instruction

Let us briefly address three buzz words in education before we dive into the new IISPs. These words are differentiate, individualize, and personalize; and they are important because they will help you to identify ways in which you can use these IISPs to address multiple types of instruction, regardless of your preference or which side of research you choose to support. The bottom line is that learning is a great motivator if your students can see that they have mastered a standard or competency and acquired a new skill. All three of these instruction types lend themselves to reaching this goal, and the new IISPs can be used to target non-mastered content so that minimal time is wasted, and students can build on this sense of achievement. We will address each of these individually; but first, take a moment to look at the diagram below.

We begin with differentiated instruction. Differentiated instruction lends itself to small group settings. Usually, the teacher will identify non-mastered content and skills and group students based on common deficiencies. Lessons are designed around the needs of each group, so it is important to select or develop activities that specifically address non-mastered content within each group. These groups are not static, meaning students are not always assigned to the same group. We will label this type of instruction as “the how.”

As we move to individualized instruction, we begin to focus on the learning needs of each individual student. The academic goals pretty much remain the same for the course; however, individual students may progress through the curriculum at different speeds based on their learning needs. The teacher will target one need at a time and skip over content that the student has already mastered. Instruction is calibrated to meet the pace of the student. You will see when we begin to explore these new IISPs how each plan is created to emphasize what is tested at each TABE level (E, M, D, and A). You will also see how the IISP allows you to incorporate individual student performance data from the student's TABE Individual Profile Report so that you can specifically target standards and skills which that student has not yet mastered. As you review the IISP with the student, he will learn to focus on what has not been mastered and skip mastered content. We will label this type of instruction as "the when."

Finally, let me briefly address personalized learning. This term actually dates back to the early 1960s or so; however, there really isn't any widespread agreement on a definition for the term. It has, however, become more popular since the RAND Corporation in partnership with the Bill & Melinda Gates Foundation began researching personalized learning and its impact on education. What I want to bring across in this training, nonetheless, is that the IISPs can be used to personalize instruction for individual students should you choose to do so. The easiest way to initiate this would be for the teacher to select the learning activities based on student interests. This type of instruction combines both "the how" and "the when" and adds student participation in the selection and creation of learning activities.

Part 2: The New TABE 11/12 Language IISP

In simple terms, we know that what educators want is to identify and successfully implement gap-closing tools, etc. that lead to results. The tool we are addressing here is the new IISP for TABE 11/12 language students, and we are finally at that point where we are ready to unveil the tool that is going to close the performance gap in your ABE classrooms.

As we unveil the tool, we will address four basic steps that will lead to the successful implementation of these plans in your ABE language class.

In subsequent pages, we will address each of these steps in detail; however, we will begin with an overview.

STEP 1Understand the IISP and its components.

First, as with any test, it is crucial to know the structure of the test as well as what is tested. These new IISPs were created to address both these topics. As we look at the plan and how it is structured, I will walk you through its different components and explain how they address each section of the test.

STEP 2Select the right IISP for every student.

Each subject area tested has 4 different test levels. For example, the Language subject area test has 4 test levels: E, M, D, and A. It would not have sufficed to have a generic plan to address all test levels, so we created a specific IISP for each test level which totals 4 IISPs per subject area. If we look at the total picture, this means that there are 4 IISPs for language, 4 for reading, and 4 for math. In this training we are just focusing on the language, but how do you know which of the 4 plans to use? How do you know on which test level each of your students will post-test? This will be addressed in Step 2.

STEP 3Use student data to develop a true IISP.

Third, an IISP doesn't really become individualized until it is tailored to fit a student's learning needs. This being said, we must learn to transfer student test data onto the IISP in order to individualize it. In Step 3, we will look at transferring student data from the TABE student's Individual Profile Report to the IISP in order to identify non-mastered content for targeted instruction.

STEP 4Use the IISP to differentiate, individualize, and personalize instruction

Finally, we began this training with three action words: differentiate, individualize, and personalize. In step 4, I will show you how you can use the data on the IISPs to address these three types of instruction.

Let's keep moving, and let's take a closer look at each step!

STEP 1

What impacts your enrollment?

A closer look!

This is Step 1 to success! If you want your students to do well on the TABE 11/12 Language Test, it's not enough to just provide good instruction. It is essential that you and your students know as much as possible about this test. You need to know what topic areas are tested, how many questions under each area, what question types are included. You need to be able to connect classroom lessons and activities directly to tested content. These new language IISPs map out each level of the test. They help you and your students focus on content that has not been mastered and also allow you to track progress over time to identify if and when a student has mastered a sufficient amount of tested content in order to be successful when post-testing.

In Part I, we addressed that differentiated, individualized, and personalized instruction were all taken into consideration during the development of this plan. We have been emphasizing for some time now that these plans will take the guesswork out of teaching. Why? Because they truly are individualized. We know they are individualized because they don't emphasize content that was pretested. They are different from the student's Individual Profile Report in that the Individual Profile Report only tells you how the student performed on his pre-test. It does not tell you what content is going to be post-tested. The IISPs actually identify the content which students must master at each level to support success when post-testing.

Now, let us talk about "personalization." With these plans, students must "own" their learning. Because they know exactly how their post-test is structured as well as the content that is tested, they can track their progress with guidance from their teachers. In this "personalized" type of instruction, students become experts who monitor progress and reflect on learning based on mastery of tested content.

It is now time to explore each plan component in detail!

At the top where you have Section #1 with the arrow pointing right, you have the name and level of the IISP. This student plan is the IISP for Language for the Level M TABE 11/12 test. But what does this mean exactly? The significance is that this plan corresponds to the student’s post-test, not his pre-test. For example, because this is a Level M plan, this means that the student will be post-testing on a Level M Language test. Understanding this is critical because we are preparing students for their post-tests.

Here is an example. Say that you have a student who pre-tested on the Language Level E test. You know that the student will be post-testing on the Level M test, so the student’s IISP should be the one for the Level M test.

Section #2, located under the title of the IISP, is the section for you to input basic student, teacher, and course information.

Under that you have Section #3 “Current Testing Information” on the left and Section #4 “Post-testing Information” on the right. Section #3 “Current Testing Information” refers to the student’s pre-test information. Here, you will write the date that the student took the pretest; the level; the test form; and finally, the corresponding NRS Level Score with the correlated scale score range. You input the information in this section based on the student’s Individualized Profile Report, but do not worry about that yet. In the next section I will show you how to select the correct post-test form and level along with how to transfer a student’s pre-test information to his IISP. For now, let us just look at the structure and content of the IISP.

Under Section #4, “Post-testing Information”, you have the TABE level at which the student will be post-testing. You can also see the correlated college & career readiness level, “C” in this example, along with the average word count and Lexile level for the Level M language test. This information is critical when selecting instructional resources and activities because you want to be sure to provide students with content that mirrors what they will encounter on their post-tests.

Section #5 identifies the Domain followed by a % in parentheses. The % indicates how much of the test addresses this particular domain. In this example, 44% of the test is dedicated to questions regarding Conventions of Standard English. Right under the domain you have the CCRS Category. This domain falls under the Language category under CCRS. Right under that you have the number of questions pertaining to this domain.

Section #6 is to the right of Section #5. Here, in Section #6, you can mark how well the student performed on his pretest on this identified section of the test.

Section #7 is the table header that identifies the TABE Category, TABE Subcategory, and TABE Skill; all of which are found on the student’s Individual Profile Report. The columns titled Emphasis and Aligned CCRS contain information from the TABE 11/12 Blueprints. The emphasis can be labeled High, Medium, or Low. The Aligned CCRS will give you a specific reference number to the correlated CCR standard so that you can obtain a more detailed description of the standard or substandard should you desire one. And finally, the last title in the header reads “Mastery Date.” Here, a teacher or student can write the mastery date for each specific standard and substandard. This column is a critical column because if updated in a timely manner, it will provide an easy at-a-glance view of content that has already been mastered. It helps keep individual student data “live”.

It IS important to note that Sections 5 through 7 repeat in format for every domain tested.

Correlated CCR Anchor/Substandards & Descriptions

Conventions of Standard English

- 2.L.1 Demonstrate command of the conventions of standard English grammar and usage when writing or speaking.
- 2.L.1.a Use collective nouns (e.g., group)
- 2.L.1.b Form and use frequently occurring irregular plural nouns (e.g., feet, children, teeth, mice, fish).
- 2.L.1.c Form and use the past tense of frequently occurring irregular verbs (e.g., sat, hid, told).
- 2.L.1.d Use reflexive pronouns (e.g., myself, ourselves).
- 2.L.1.f Produce, expand, and rearrange complete simple and compound sentences (e.g., The boy watched the movie; The little boy watched the movie; The action movie was watched by the little boy).
- 2.L.2 Demonstrate command of the conventions of standard English capitalization, Punctuation, and spelling when writing.
- 2.L.2.a Consult reference materials, including beginning dictionaries, as needed to check and correct spellings.

3.W.1.D PROVIDE A CONCLUDING STATEMENT OR SECTION.

Before we move to Step 2, let’s explain the “+” plus signs and the N/As.

- As we have indicated in prior webinar trainings on the TABE 11/12 tests, we have identified some discrepancies between the Blueprints, the CCR Standards, and the student's Individual Profile Reports.
- When you see a “+” sign in front of the TABE skill, this means that the topic appears on the TABE Blue Print for that subject area and test level; however, it never appears on any of the student's Individual Profile Reports for the same subject area and test level. To eliminate the possibility of excluding content that is possibly tested, we have added that specific skill to the document.
- A similar situation exists with “N/A”. N/A means that this particular skill is found on the student's Individual Profile Report; however, it is not listed on the TABE 11/12 Blueprint. Because it doesn’t appear on the Blueprint, the emphasis is not available either.

Finally, Section #8, the last section of the plan, can be found after the last domain chart. This section has a complete list of every aligned CCR standard on the plan and it is grouped by domain. Because the information is organized numerically, a teacher can easily locate the detailed explanation for any given CCR anchor, standard, or substandard listed under a specific domain. For example, if you are looking at “conclusions” in the TABE subcategory on this slide, you can see that the aligned CCRS is 3.W.1.d. If you want to know what 3.W.1.d stands for, you would look under Section 8 and scroll down until you locate the number. To the right, you will have a detailed description. You cannot see the explanation here because the document is cut off; however, we’ve added a box to include the full description which is, “Provide a concluding statement or section.” There’s also a check box in front of the substandard number that can be checked once the student masters this substandard.

Just a note that the tested TABE Categories, subcategories and skills are currently being aligned to the new Florida B.E.S.T. standards. Once completed, you will be provided with an addendum of these B.E.S.T. alignments.

You are now ready for Step 2 to success!

STEP 2 Select the right IISP for each student.

In order to target student deficiencies in preparation for post-testing with the TABE 11/12 Reading, Mathematics, and Language tests; it is essential that the correct IISP be used in order to ensure tested content is addressed throughout instruction and assessed for mastery. Therefore, the question is, “Which IISP should I assign to a student?” Selecting the right plan does not have to be complicated. Look at the chart below.

Recommended

NRS Level	Alternate Form Testing	Same Form Testing
	i.e., 11 M to 12 M	i.e., 11 M to 11 M
1 - 4	50 – 60 hours of instruction recommended	60 – 80 hours of instruction recommended
5 - 6	39 – 59 hours of instruction recommended	60 – 80 hours of instruction recommended

Now that you selected the alternate form, you need to select the level at which your student will post-test.

Determining the next test level is critical! Always try to post-test a student at the lowest level possible. This has two benefits: (1) It ensures you are addressing mastery of lower-level content in order to avoid learning gaps and (2) it is easier for a student to make a functional level gain or gain a Literacy Completion Point (LCP).

Look at the snip below of the language results taken from DRC's Individual Profile Report. We have enlarged the Language Test results row in order to better illustrate how we will use this data to select this student's NTA. Remember, the NTA refers to the student's Next Test Assignment. This means the form and level at which the student will be post-tested.

Test Results		Test Date	Level	Number of Points		Items Attempted	Scale Score	SEM	NRS Level	MSG
				Total	Obtained
Reading		---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---
Language		02/10/2020	M	39	24	35	518	17	3	N

Test Results	Test Date	Level	Number of Points		Items	Scale Score	SEM	NRS Level	MSG
			Total	Obtained	Attempted
Language	02/10/2020	M	39	24	35	518	17	3	N

Keeping this information in mind, follow the chart on the next page. Generally speaking, based on a student's pre-test TABE Level (left column) as well as NRS Level (middle column), you will prepare the student to post-test at the identified Next Test Level (NTA) (right column). You do not need to look at the scale score range to determine this NTA level. You just need to look at the student's NRS level; and in case you're wondering, this information as seen above is available on the student's Individual Profile Report.

Pre-test TABE Level	Pre-test NRS Level	Suggested NTA
1 → E	1	E
	2	E
	3	M
M	2	M
	2 → 3	3 → M
	4	D
D	3	D
	4	D
	5	A
A	4	A
	5	A
	6	N/A

Example:

Take a look at the example in the chart above and go over the process of selecting this student’s Next Test Assignment (NTA):

1. The student tested on Form 12, so we are going to assign her Form 11 for the post-test.
2. The student pre-tested on the Level M test for Language (see #1 above) and scored an NRS Level 3 (See #2 above).
3. You will assign the student to post-test on the Level M test in Language (see #3 above).

In summary, this student’s Next Test Assignment or NTA for Language is 11 M. (See below.)

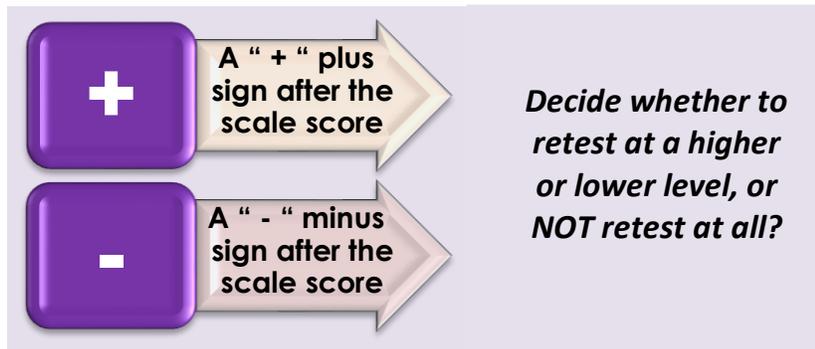

Pretest	Posttest
Form 12	Form 11
Level M	Level M
NTA = Language 11 M

Clarifying Point:

If a student scores more than one NRS level above the targeted level, then a (+) sign will appear next to the scale score and their score will be set to the highest possible scale score, which is one above the targeted level. In this case, students may want to test with a higher TABE test in order to better assess their ability.

Scale scores with a minus (-) sign next to them are indicators that the student performed at the lower end of the performance range of that level of TABE and the student will likely need to have extended instruction to be ready to demonstrate an NRS Gain on a post test.

You see this disclaimer on the Individual Profile Report regarding student scores that are followed by either a “+” plus or “-” minus sign by the scale score. This indicates that you may have the option to retest the student at either a higher or lower level test.

Before making the decision, consider making the choice that will allow the student to post-test at the lowest level possible. This has two benefits:

1. It ensures you are addressing mastery of lower-level content in order to avoid learning gaps, and
2. It is easier for a student to make a functional level gain or gain a Literacy Completion Point (LCP).

Whatever you decide is in your student’s best interest, be sure that you provide him with the appropriate IISP.

STEP 3

Use student data to develop a true IISP

A closer look!

Now that the student’s next form number as well as NTA have been identified, the corresponding IISP can be created for the student. This will enable the teacher and student to focus on instruction that addresses non-mastered content that will be post-tested. The IISP level should match the suggested NTA level. You are now ready to create the IISP.

Look at the diagram on the previous page. Based on our sample student’s pre-test score, we have already determined that the student will post-test on a Language Form 11, Level M test.

1. Type/write in the student’s personal information at the top.
2. Transfer the current testing information from the student’s Individual Profile Report. We select “M”, “12”, and NRS level “3”

Follow the red circles and arrows so that you see how to align the information and transfer it correctly.

3. We now transfer the performance on the individual domains from the Individual Profile Report to the corresponding section of the IISP.

Notice in the diagram on the previous page that the Individual Profile Report does not have the performance for the Knowledge of Language Domain. This situation exists when there is an insufficient number of questions under a domain to determine proficiency. Also, remember that we are still using the data from our sample student who pretested on a Level M test and will be post-testing on a Level M test. This makes it very simple to transfer information from the student's Individual Profile Report to the IISP. If the student were testing on a Level D test, however, you would not be able to directly transfer the data from the IISP because the tested content would be different. In essence, you would need to cover most, if not all, of the content on the Level D IISP.

As we continue, remember to keep foremost in your mind that one of the key goals for using the IISP is for the student to become a self-directed, expert learner who monitors progress and reflects on learning based on mastery of content and skills. It is strongly recommended that you complete this next activity with the student and that you encourage the student to monitor his own progress. You may need to do this with the student several times until he truly understands the process and is comfortable doing it on his own. Nonetheless, you will still need to monitor the student's progress in order to determine when he is ready to post-test.

Let us continue transferring the student's pre-test data to the IISP.

4. You now look at each domain section. (Refer to the diagram on the following page.) Take one domain section at a time and reference back to the student's Individual Profile Report. On this TABE report, you need to transfer the information from the "Demonstrated Skills" column to the IISP. Because these skills have already been mastered, you want to simply put a checkmark in the "Mastery Date" column on the IISP. Continue to cross-reference until you have completed this for all the domains.

NOTE: In these two charts above, it is important to note that the verbiage used on the IISP matches that of the TABE 11/12 Individual Profile Report. This will make it easy to match content from one document to the other. If the specific TABE skill is located on the "Demonstrated Skills" column, then simply place a checkmark on the student's IISP in the "Mastery Date" column. There is no need to put a date since this data is being transferred directly from the testing report.

STEP 4Use the IISP to differentiate, individualize, and personalize.

Now that the student’s IISP is complete, you have a document that takes all of the guesswork out of instruction. With the IISP, both you and the student know exactly what standards, sub-standards, and skills need to be emphasized and which need perhaps a light review or can be skipped altogether.

Now, we will address how you can use the IISP to differentiate, individualize, and personalize instruction. Keep in mind, however, that this part of the process requires practice and experience. The more you use the IISP to develop lessons and activities and to drive instruction, the more proficient you will become at it. Also, remember that every time a standard, substandard, or skill has been mastered; it is essential that the mastery date be documented on the student’s IISP. This will keep your data live and will let you and the student know when the student is ready for post-testing. As the student monitors his own progress, he will become more self-directed in his learning. He will seek out activities that address non-mastered content and skills.

The chart below provides an at-a-glance summary of key points; however, for a detailed explanation of each category, turn to the next page.

Differentiate	Individualize	Personalize
Small, Flexible Groups	Individual Students	Individual Students
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ▪ Design lessons around non-mastered content. ▪ Group students by non-mastered standards, substandards, or TABE skills. ▪ Be sure to engage students who have already mastered a content or skill in an alternate activity that addresses other non-mastered content. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ▪ Work with individual students to provide instruction. ▪ Target one failed standard, substandard, or TABE skill at a time. ▪ Assign activities on content which has not been mastered. ▪ Pace activities and test as soon as the student has mastered tested content. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ▪ Customize activities based on the student’s strengths, needs, skills, and interest. ▪ Involve the student when selecting or creating learning activities that are of interest to the student. ▪ Guide the student in selecting activities for non-mastered content.

To address differentiated instruction, be sure that you organize students into small groups based on commonly failed content. These groups should be flexible. In other words, students should not remain in the same group throughout the length of the course. If a student has already mastered the content you are teaching, be sure to provide alternate activities that address non-mastered content.

To individualize your instruction, work one-on-one with the student. Target one failed standard, substandard, or TABE skill at a time. Assign activities only for non-mastered content. Pace activities to fit your student's learning style and test the student as soon as he has demonstrated mastery of the tested content.

Finally, to personalize instruction, select or customize activities that are of interest to the student. The goal here is for the student to eventually be able to select his own activities based on non-mastered content. You will need to provide guidance at first to ensure that the student makes appropriate selections based on needs, skills, and interest. Then gradually release the student as he demonstrates accuracy in making the appropriate selections on his own.

Conclusion and Reflection

Let us now take a brief moment to summarize some key points.

Key Points to Remember:

- ✓ No guesswork is involved!
- ✓ Fillable pdfs are easily digitally updated.
- ✓ All student data is transferred from the TABE Individual Profile Report.
- ✓ Immediately identify non-mastered tested content.
- ✓ Maintain your data live and hold data chats!
- ✓ Use live data to effectively group students.
- ✓ Pace activities and post-testing based on content mastery and readiness to post-test.
- ✓ Use IISPs to differentiate, individualize, & personalize!
- ✓ Engage and empower your students in their own learning!

Now you have the tool that you need to take the guesswork out of teaching and to engage each student in taking an active part in his learning. Use the language IISPs to target specific learning needs. Use them to hold individual data chats with your students. Go over what they have mastered and what remains pending. Have discussions about what activities they prefer and are of greater interest to them. As you personalize activities more and more, you will see how students become engaged and empowered in their learning; and finally, watch your data start to move in the right direction.

Time to Reflect

As always, I like to end my trainings by emphasizing a growth mindset and, therefore, ask you to take what you have learned one step further.

Change how you look at instruction. Look beyond your class as a whole. When differentiating instruction, be sure that you group students based on non-mastered content. Then, take it further and begin to look at each individual student so that you can address the specific needs of each student.

Redesign your curriculum. Develop lessons and select instructional resources based on commonly failed content. Emphasize activities that support tested content. Make an active decision to drive targeted instruction based on the IISP and use this plan to motivate your students to become actively engaged in their own learning. Pace activities and schedule post-testing based on each student's individual progress.

Review the information covered in this webinar and look through the companion resource handbook. Share this information with teachers, administrators and district personnel and become an expert.

Reflect and Make a Change. Finally, ask yourself, "What is working especially well in my class, and what is not?" Hold regular data chats with your students and be sure to update IISPs every time content is mastered. Work with your testing department to test students as soon as they have demonstrated mastery of tested content. Share your students' success with other teachers so that they too are motivated to implement changes that will drive up all student performance data.

Cheat Note for Determining a Student’s Post-test Form and Level (TABE 11/12)

TABE 11/12: Determining a Student’s Next Test Assignment (NTA)

In order to target student deficiencies in preparation for post-testing with the TABE 11/12 Reading, Mathematics, and Language tests; it is essential that the correct Individualized Instructional Student Plan (IISP) be used in order to ensure tested content is addressed through instruction and assessed for mastery.

Step 1: Determine the next form number.

Keep it simple. If the student pre-tested on Form 11 of the TABE 11/12 test, then post-test the student on Form 12 and vice versa. By selecting the alternate form, you will be able to post-test more frequently, thereby allowing you increased opportunities to move the student from one functional level to the next. See the recommended testing times below.

NRS Level	Alternate Form Testing (i.e., 11 M to 12 M) Recommended	Same Form Testing (i.e., 11 M to 11 M)
1 – 4	50-60 hours of instruction recommended	60-80 hours of instruction recommended
5 – 6	30-59 hours of instruction recommended

Step 2: Determine the next level test.

This is critical! Always try to post-test a student at the lowest level possible. This has two benefits: (1) It ensures you are addressing mastery of lower-level content in order to avoid learning gaps and (2) it is easier for a student to make a functional level gain or gain a Literacy Completion Point (LCP). Follow the chart below. Based on a student’s pre-test TABE Level (left column) as well as NRS Level (middle column), you will prepare the student to post-test at the identified next test level (right column).

	2	E
	3	M
M	2	M
	3	M
	4	D
D	3	D
	4	D
	5	A
A	4	A
	5	A
	6	N/A

Step 3: Create the correlated IISP.

Now that the student’s next form number as well as NTA have been identified, the corresponding IISP can be created for the student. This will enable the teacher and student to focus on instruction that addresses non-mastered content that will be post-tested. The IISP level should match the suggested NTA level.

- 3.L.5 Demonstrate understanding of word relationships and nuances in word meanings.
- 3.L.5.a Distinguish the literal and nonliteral meanings of words and phrases in context (e.g., take steps).
- 3.L.5.b Identify real-life connections between words and their use (e.g., describe people who are friendly or helpful).
- 3.L.5.c Distinguish shades of meaning among related words that describe states of mind or degrees of certainty (e.g., knew, believed, suspected, heard, wondered).
- 3.L.6 Acquire and use accurately grade-appropriate conversational, general academic, and domain-specific words and phrases, including those that signal spatial and temporal relationships (e.g., After dinner that night we went looking for them).

Text Types & Purposes

- 3.W.1 Write opinion pieces on topics or texts, supporting a point of view with reasons.
- 3.W.1.a Introduce the topic or text they are writing about, state an opinion, and create an organizational structure that lists reasons.
- 3.W.1.b Provide reasons that support the opinion.
- 3.W.1.c Use linking words and phrases (e.g., because, therefore, since, for example) to connect opinion and reasons.
- 3.W.1.d Provide a concluding statement or section.
- 3.W.2 Write informative/explanatory texts to examine a topic and convey ideas and information clearly
- 3.W.2.a Introduce a topic and group related information together; include illustrations when useful to aiding comprehension.
- 3.W.2.b Develop the topic with facts, definitions, and details.
- 3.W.2.c Use linking words and phrases (e.g., also, another, and, more, but) to connect ideas within categories of information.
- 3.W.2.d Provide a concluding statement or section.

Conventions of Standard English

- 9-10.L.1 Demonstrate command of the conventions of standard English grammar and usage when writing or speaking.
- 9-10.L.1.a Use parallel structure.
- 9-10.L.1.b Use various types of phrases (noun, verb, adjectival, adverbial, participial, prepositional, absolute) and clauses (independent, dependent; noun, relative, adverbial) to convey specific meanings and add variety and interest to writing or presentations.
- 9-10.L.2 Demonstrate command of the conventions of standard English capitalization, Punctuation, and spelling when writing.
- 9-10.L.2.a Use a semicolon (and perhaps a conjunctive adverb) to link two or more closely related independent clauses.
- 9-10.L.2.b Use a colon to introduce a list or quotation.
- 9-10.L.2.c Spell correctly.

Vocabulary Acquisition & Use

- 11-12.L.4 Determine or clarify the meaning of unknown and multiple-meaning words and phrases based on grades 11- 12 reading and content, choosing flexibly from a range of strategies.
- 11-12.L.4.a Use context (e.g., the overall meaning of a sentence, paragraph, or text; a word's position or function in a sentence) as a clue to the meaning of a word or phrase.
- 11-12.L.4.b Identify and correctly use patterns of word changes that indicate different meanings or parts of speech (e.g., conceive, conception, conceivable).
- 11-12.L.4.c Consult general and specialized reference materials (e.g., dictionaries, glossaries, thesauruses), both print and digital, to find the pronunciation of a word or determine or clarify its precise meaning, its part of speech, its etymology, or its standard usage.
- 11-12.L.4.d Verify the preliminary determination of the meaning of a word or phrase (e.g., by checking the inferred meaning in context or in a dictionary).
- 11-12.L.6 Acquire and use accurately general academic and domain-specific words and phrases, sufficient for reading, writing, speaking, and listening at the college and career readiness level; demonstrate independence in gathering vocabulary knowledge when considering a word or phrase important to comprehension or expression.

Text Types & Purposes

- 9-10.W.1 Write arguments to support claims in an analysis of substantive topics or texts, using valid reasoning and relevant and sufficient evidence.
- 9-10.W.1.b Develop claim(s) and counterclaims fairly, supplying evidence for each while pointing out the strengths and limitations of both in a manner that anticipates the audience's knowledge level and concerns.
- 9-10.W.1.c Use words, phrases, and clauses to link the major sections of the text, create cohesion, and clarify the relationships between claim(s) and reasons, between reasons and evidence, and between claim(s) and counterclaims.
- 9-10.W.1.d Establish and maintain a formal style and objective tone while attending to the norms and conventions of the discipline in which they are writing.
- 9-10.W.1.e Provide a concluding statement or section that follows from and supports the argument presented.
- 9-10.W.2 Write informative/explanatory texts to examine and convey complex ideas, concepts, and information clearly and accurately through the effective selection, organization, and analysis of content.
- 9-10.W.2.a Introduce a topic; organize complex ideas, concepts, and information to make important connections and distinctions; include formatting (e.g., headings), graphics (e.g., figures, tables), and multimedia when useful to aiding comprehension.
- 9-10.W.2.b Develop the topic with well-chosen, relevant, and sufficient facts, extended definitions, concrete details, quotations, or other information and examples appropriate to the audience's knowledge of the topic.
- 9-10.W.2.c Use appropriate and varied transitions to link the major sections of the text, create cohesion, and clarify the relationships among complex ideas and concepts.
